Mid Somerset 2nd XI.....3
Frome Veterans.....6

Mids seemed to have trouble in this game adjusting to their own level after the arduous league season. An early long corner was crossed by Mike Evans for John Sawyer to shoot and Malcolm Cholrton to deflect into the net, scoring the type of goal that Mids have so often conceded this year.

A second goal followed as Chorlton ran in from the right, for Sawyer to convert the cross. But then perhaps the shock of being 2-0 up after 12 minutes, with players queuing up to shoot, was too much for the side, because what followed left Mids all at sea.

A lack of composure at the front meant chances went begging, and a lack of composure at the back led to two penalty corners, well converted into goals, and the temporary suspension of a Mids player for dissent. A third goal from open play left Mids unable to believe they were losing a match they had dominated so much in the opening period.

Worse was to come in the second half as the previously dormant Frome centre-forward, Andy Nicholson, scored a further three goals. Chorlton added a fine individual goal for Mids but it was too late to effect the result of a game that Mids should have won.

With a visit to Chard Veterans on Saturday (March 22), it is hoped that Mids can at least finish their season with a flourish.
